

Facility Management Schweiz [FM Schweiz]

FM Switzerland was formed in 1930 and is the largest independent professional association in Switzerland for Facility Management.

The association is an advocate for the full range of occupations in the area of Facility Management and promotes its importance in industry and society. The focus of the commitment is on quality and economic benefit. FM Switzerland provides its members with a platform for creating a knowledge network, the basis for new contacts and a professional interchange.

FM Switzerland is highly committed to the subject of vocational training, actively supporting tertiary education and further training and helping to strengthen this occupational field by championing the sustainability of similar training courses and their consolidation on a meaningful basis. The members benefit from a range of additional services (technical magazine, newsletter, technical conferences, publications etc.).

The exchange of information and collaboration with other FM organizations in Switzerland and Europe is another important aspect of the association's work aimed at giving it additional 'clout' and utilizing synergies in order to achieve the common mission.

The members of FM Switzerland are primarily management personnel, consultants and technical specialists in private and public sector companies involved in the operational area, as well as numerous corporate members from various areas of FM.

As an association we concentrate the interests of the individual members in order to achieve our common aims and values. The more active your involvement and the more that you bring your areas of expertise and capacities to bear the more diverse the association's network will be, enabling it to raise its profile and increase its influence.
